Conspiracy Charged

West Steel Firms Sift Government Anti-Trust Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — West steel processors today studied a government civil suit charging they conspired to eliminate competition in steel bars for concrete in seven Western states.

The U.S. government filed suit Monday in U.S. District Court here, accusing an Oakland trade association, six steel companies and 12 fabricating firms with getting control of 75 per cent of the market in 1958 in Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers asked that the Western Reinforcing Steel Fabricators Assn. of Oakland be dissolved and that it and 18 other defendants, including Bethlehem and U.S. Steel, be declared conspirators in violation of antitrust statutes. The complaint said they conspired to restrict foreign imports and impede small fabricators, and used non-competitive and collusive bids to control the market in the rough reinforcing steel used in concrete known as rebars.

Steel companies sometimes make these rebars themselves out of smooth bars, but also sell smooth bars to fabricators for processing into rebars, or even directly to contractors for processing on the job.

The suit charges that the fabricators induced the steel mills to refuse to sell rebars directly to contractors and to channel bar stock through the 12 accused processing firms.

Spokesmen for the defendants, where reachable for comment, said they would have none until they had studied the complaint thoroughly.

The steel companies named besides Bethlehem and U.S. Steel are Southwest Steel Rolling Mills of Los Angeles; Pacific States Steel Corp., of Niles, Calif.; Johnson Steel Corp. of Emeryville, Calif., and Bethlehem Pacific Coast Steel Corp. of San Francisco, a division of the parent Bethlehem firm.

The fabricators named are Blue Diamond Corp., Los Angeles; Ceco Steel Products, Chicago; Flintkote Co., New York; Herrick Iron Works, Hayward, Calif.; F. A. Klinger Corp., Stockton, Calif.; Meehleis Steel Co., Vernon, Calif.; Pittsburgh Des Moines Steel Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Ruthford and Skouby Inc., Los Angeles; Joseph T. Ryerson & Son, Inc., Chicago; San Jose Steel Co., Inc., San Jose, Calif.; Soule Steel Co., San Francisco; and Gilmore-Skouby Steel Contractors, Oakland, Calif.

Washington Hit Hard

Hundreds Saved From West Flood

SEATTLE (AP) — Rolling rivers in western Washington edged slowly downward during the night but a combination of rain and snow-melting temperatures in the mountains meant no immediate relief for hundreds flooded out of their valley homes.

Lowlands within a radius of about 50 miles were vast lakes, dotted by small hills where livestock huddled above the swirling waters. Thousands of acres of rich farmland were inundated and damage was expected to run into millions of dollars.

It was northwest Washington's worst flood in 26 years.

Hundreds of persons were rescued by helicopter, powerboats and amphibious craft from the Green River Valley, about 25 miles south of here, and from the Snohomish River area to the north.

Many left reluctantly—unwilling to abandon homes and livestock. Some refused to leave.

Pearl Westerlund, 59, said she didn't intend to leave her home near Kent.

"But then I stood on a chair to get away from the water, and men in a boat spotted me."

"When they asked me if I didn't want to leave, I decided I did. That water was getting pretty deep."

Cold Weather With Snow Or Flurries Seen

There may not be cranberries on the Thanksgiving table but it's possible snow will be on the ground for the eve of the holiday.

Thanksgiving Week, when winter usually descends on the Ohio Valley, will see the return of cold weather by tonight with winds and snow or flurries by Wednesday. Tonight's temperature will hover around the freezing mark with a low of 30 to 35 forecast. Rain mixed with snow this afternoon may set the stage for the end of the mild spell.

The holiday means a four-day weekend for virtually all schools and children. Throughout the district, public and parochial schools will close Wednesday afternoon, reopening Monday.

The holiday closing will affect city, county, state and federal ofices, including the Court Houses in Lisbon, New Cumberland and Beaver and City Hall and Municipal Court here.

Area financial institutions will suspend operations for the holiday, with most observing the usual Wednesday closing hours.

City's Staffs Seek Parley On Pay Issue

Council's Rejection Of Bonus Results In Work Stoppage Hint

Amid rumblings of a move for a work stoppage, city employees today requested a meeting with Council to protest a decision rejecting a finance committee recommendation to pay $150 year-end bonuses to all 150 municipal workers.

The requests for the meeting were being filed separately in writing today by each city department with Council President B. E. Warner as an aftermath of a general discussion Monday night at Central Fire Station in which virtually all branches of the municipal payroll were represented.

The finance committee presented a report to Council Nov. 16 suggesting the $150 bonuses, along with pay boosts for department heads and most of the new officials who will take office Jan. 1.

However, at a caucus session Saturday Council decided not to accept the proposal for the bonus and modified some other phases of the committee's proposal. The employee action followed.

Employees said about 100 attended the meeting at the fire station last night, including workers in the street, incinerator, fire, police and water departments.

They said the final decision was to seek a meeting with Council to discuss the bonus and another recommendation under which the councilmen agreed tentatively to pay $50-a-month raises for department heads.

The employees said they feel all workers are entitled to pay boosts, not only the department heads.

Under the plan worked out last night, each department will send a letter to Warner requesting a meeting with Council. Each department proposes to send a three-man committee to the meeting.

Warner said at mid-morning that he has received a written request from only one city branch, Local 24, International Association of Fire Fighters.

Warner said he does not know when the Council-employee meeting will be scheduled, adding that he will seek to set a date on which all seven members of Council can present.

Employees said workers of some departments will meet tonight to go over plans for the discussion with Council and possibly to name departmental representatives.

Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, has scheduled a special meeting tonight at 7:30 at Tice's Restaurant on E. 4th St.

The union has been engaged in negotiations with Council on wages and working conditions and present.

The Pike Island dam also will be a high-level structure with double locks such as were built at Stratton.

Crucible Steel To Pay Dividend Of 20 Cents

2 Union Rites Awaited

Churches Expect Crowds At Thanksgiving Services

Heading the admonition in President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving proclamation, hundreds are expected to gather at union services in East Liverpool district churches Wednesday morning to express "gratitude for the inestimable blessings of God and pray that He continues to guide and sustain us in the great unfinished task of achieving peace among men and nations."

There also is a possibility that De Gaulle will visit America sometime in May, thus pushing a summit date back some more.

There is also a possibility that Khrushchev might lose any desire for a meeting if it fails to materialize by mid-June. Several leading British newspapers point out that by then the U.S. presidential election would not be far off, and Khrushchev possibly would prefer to talk with the new president rather than outgoing President Eisenhower.

These papers maintain there is little to support Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's continuing display of confidence that an early summit can be held. They say his hopes received a rude setback when Khrushchev failed publicly to oppose De Gaulle's call for a slower approach to top-level negotiations, and when he agreed to visit France in March rather than in February.

Rehabilitation In Proper Atmosphere

A proposed work farm or camp program for youthful offenders is being studied with real interest by district juvenile authorities who are well aware of the problem of rehabilitating lesser "wrong-doers."

State law now gives individual counties the power to establish such camp programs, but Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin has come up with a joint sponsorship suggestion which includes other counties in order to cut costs and duplication.

A properly-supervised and well-administered detention camp could not help but be beneficial in rehabilitating youth guilty of crimes which do not warrant severe punishment or sentencing to the Boys Industrial School.

In some states, a youth committed to a penal institution too often receives from fellow inmates "advanced courses" in auto theft, safecracking or other specialties.

Whittling A Buckeye Boomerang

The Ohio Chamber of Commerce has embarked upon a comparative study to try to determine what effect new taxes imposed on business by the 103rd General Assembly will have on the "favorable industrial climate" the state has enjoyed for many years.

If objectivity is the keynote of the study, it will be beneficial. Ohio's high rank as a good place to do business is important to the prosperity of all its residents. It well behoves Ohio's citizens as well as their government representatives to keep tabs on all factors which foster that high rank.

But in launching its study, the chamber has dropped a few hints here and there that it knows in advance what it expects to prove and does not expect to have its mind changed by the outcome of its research.

For instance, President Hugo H. Young opened the state chamber's annual convention last week with these words:

"Ohio's easy coasting into phenomenal new industrial growth is at an end. The character of the road ahead is changing. The going is tougher. We face a harder uphill climb." In other words, the climate for industry in Ohio is chillier.

It is well to note that this view does not by any means command unanimity of support among businessmen or among even some of the most conservative legislators in the 103rd Assembly.

MANY BUSINESSMEN emphasize that the stability of a state's tax picture is as important as the actual level of taxation. If the recent tax increases prove to be sufficient to preclude further major tax hikes for several years to come, they will maintain Ohio's advantage over other industrial states which raise business taxes every time their legislatures convene.

Emergence Of A National Issue

Presidential candidates next year may find themselves fighting featherbedding. No imagination is required to see how the "featherbedding" issue could dominate the 1960 national election.

In the steel industry, no one calls it "featherbedding," but it's just as truly the thing causing trouble as it is in railroading, where the issue over pay for work not performed or not necessary threatens to cause a railroad strike early next year.

It is likewise the issue in the dock strike, now in abeyance under a Taft-Hartley injunction. Should shippers be permitted by the Longshoremen's Union to use large shipping containers that could be transferred as units from land to water transportation, or do longshoremen have a right to destroy this efficiency move by unpacking the containers when they are transferred?

Do railroads have a right to bring work practices abreast of technology, instead of staying in the 19th century and the early part of this century when many of the practices were started?

Do musicians and stagehands have a right to collect pay for work they do not perform or work that is unnecessary? Do painters, plumbers, carpenters and electricians have a right to collect pay for work that contractors do not need to have performed?

DOES ANY ARTISAN in the interest of protecting his right in a job have a right to keep an employer from getting rid of practices that add unnecessary overhead? If the answer to that seems obvious, it is because the question has been made simpler than it is.

Industrial technology, foreign competition, the general feeling against inflation and the push by major industries to get something in juvenile delinquency in Columbiana County is not serious. But we do have some troublemakers, vandals, minor thieves and other anti-social youths who require guidance in the proper atmosphere.

A work camp could fill a needed place in the county's institutional pattern. It could provide the restriction and discipline to deter a youth from further offenses; it could offer a healthful, hardworking regimen to bring an offender back to nature and the realities of life, and it could be a valuable lesson in accepting the responsibilities one has to himself and the world.

If a workable plan could be arranged with other counties to organize such a juvenile detention center, it would be a step toward helping re-educate some of the young people who have lost sight of their goals in our confusing times.

Whittling A Buckeye Boomerang

As for specific tax increases levied by the Legislature, it is interesting to observe that many legislators of both political parties felt a hike in the one-mill corporation franchise levy was long overdue and that tripling it was not unfair. Business itself did not fight that measure as vociferously as might have been expected.

Likewise, many legislators, including some who represent basically conservative opinion, feel that the increases finally granted in unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits are fair to both labor and management. They see no great danger that the new levels will be seriously detrimental to Ohio's "favorable climate for industry."

This brings up the question of what a campaign against the tax increases might hope to accomplish at this point. Certainly not a general reduction in taxes or compensation benefits at the next session of the Legislature. Basic political facts of life rule that out.

IF THE COMPENSATION increases prove to be a bit excessive, the most likely method of adjustment would be to postpone longer than normal the next increases in those grants.

There is, on the other hand, the danger of an indirect and unforeseen disadvantage in a campaign against the increases already in effect. That is the boomerang.

If the word that Ohio's industrial climate had changed to "unfavorable" were to spread far enough, it might well convince out-of-state industries they should not even investigate the possibilities of locating or expanding in Ohio.

And if that were to happen, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce would be in the unfortunate position of having accomplished itself what it charged the new taxes with doing.

IT HAPPENED one night early in October. Jimmie H. knows, of course, that he is an iron man, but even he will age. So he got to thinking about his future. And maybe the future was closer than most other people think. There are drives on to force him out of office. If this happened, Hoffa would not get a Teamsters pension.

That's something to give a second thought. That pension is $50,000 a year. But you have to wait until you're 62. And you need to have 15 years of national office seniority behind you. And Jimmie has been in office only two years.

SO AT THE NEXT MEETING of the general executive board the Teamsters high command made the pension plan retroactive for a period of 15 years. This was for national headquarters men. It immediately assured Hoffa and his colleagues large pensions regardless of the amount of time they had actually served the international union.

Yet the question of competing with the Communist world may become the greatest challenge the United States has ever faced.

It's a question brought to mind now by the direction the Eisenhower administration is taking in giving loans to needy nations. It's been called "Buy American."

It means that if backward countries need American money to buy things, then they should spend it in this country. If they want money to buy things elsewhere, then let them get the loans elsewhere.

Recently the administration nudged its West European allies to do more on their own in lending money to needy peoples overseas. There was a time, during the 1940s, when they were too broke to do that. We did it. Now they can do some of it.

The reason behind the "Buy American" idea—without getting into the complex economics of it—goes like this: This country is still selling more abroad than it is buying abroad. But the gap is getting narrow.

And American money is flowing overseas in other ways, too. For instance, in American investments overseas, in money spent on American troops and bases, and so on. The result is that this country is sending out a lot more than it is getting back.

Yet, this whole idea of "Buy American" is being heatedly debated and challenged. The argument will get worse when Congress returns.

Still, far in the background like a ghost, is that challenge of Khrushchev to the United States to eliminate military competition and compete with the Communist world economically.

Right now there is not much danger to this country from such competition. The Soviets still are not abreast of us industrially and, because they want big armaments, they are still far behind us in producing consumer goods for their own people.

Now add to this the hundreds of thousands needed to cover the rest of the Teamsters high command—the other 14 members of the general executive board. They too will get full salaries on retirement, though most of them are employed by other sections of the Teamsters.

You might be fascinated by the imagination shown by this group. Originally only those who were on salary were eligible for a full

BUT IF HE STAYS ON the union must continue putting enough money into this special fund so it has at least half a million dollars in its pension kitty for Brother Hoffa lone when he turns 65.

For then he will retire at the full salary of $50,000. Incidentally that's exactly what Dave Beck is drawing now. That means additional hundreds of thousands of Teamsters dues dollars are tied up for Beck despite his boast that he has a considerable fortune of his own.

'I Have Here A Little Suggestion . . .'

Hoffa Gives Self Pension Plan

By Victor Riesel

Never underestimate the power of Jimmie Hoffa's imagination. He has just fixed it so that he's been the national president of the Teamsters for 15 years. Now this comes as surprise as he was elected only two years ago in September. But I've got another surprise for you. This was a high-priced imaginative bit—it cost the big brotherhood some $300,000.

It happened one night early in October. Jimmie H. knows, of course, that he is an iron man, but even he will age. So he got to thinking about his future. And maybe the future was closer than most other people think. There are drives on to force him out of office. If this happened, Hoffa would not get a Teamsters pension.

That's something to give a second thought. That pension is $50,000 a year. But you have to wait until you're 62. And you need to have 15 years of national office seniority behind you. And Jimmie has been in office only two years.

SO THEY DECIDED to vote out this injustice to the proletarian's own avantgarde. They voted to put themselves on the national office payroll at $300 a month. This then made them eligible for the retirement pension—and cost them nothing. Nor did it cut their expense accounts.

But the Teamster chiefs must have felt that the total amount of cash needed to back up their 15-year gift to themselves last month was high. So they decided to cut the amount of the national treasury's percentage contribution to these pensions. This sounds fine. But what it actually did was to slice the pensions of the old staff—men and women who have been working for the union for 15 years or more.

The old timers get hurt and the high command gets retroactive pension credit. How much all this costs few outsiders really know. The record shows that the national treasury spends about $1,200,000 annually on the retirement fund for 40 or 50 people.

All you need is a little imagination—and a nice multi-million dollar union treasury.

New-Type 'Buy American'

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

What happens when the Soviet Union really gets rolling? Premier Nikita Khrushchev talks blithely of peaceful, economic competition. It sounds almost jolly and sporting. It could be deadly.

It's a long-range thing and the kind easy to lose sight of in the more immediate problem of trying to work out a way of getting along with the Soviet Union to cut down on armaments and avoid the possibility of war.

Yet the question of competing with the Communist world may become the greatest challenge the United States has ever faced.

It's a question brought to mind now by the direction the Eisenhower administration is taking in giving loans to needy nations. It's been called "Buy American."

It means that if backward countries need American money to buy things, then they should spend it in this country. If they want money to buy things elsewhere, then let them get the loans elsewhere.

Recently the administration nudged its West European allies to do more on their own in lending money to needy peoples overseas. There was a time, during the 1940s, when they were too broke to do that. We did it. Now they can do some of it.

The reason behind the "Buy American" idea—without getting into the complex economics of it—goes like this: This country is still selling more abroad than it is buying abroad. But the gap is getting narrow.

And American money is flowing overseas in other ways, too.

For instance, in American investments overseas, in money spent on American troops and bases, and so on. The result is that this country is sending out a lot more than it is getting back.

Yet, this whole idea of "Buy American" is being heatedly debated and challenged. The argument will get worse when Congress returns.

Still, far in the background like a ghost, is that challenge of Khrushchev to the United States to eliminate military competition and compete with the Communist world economically.

Right now there is not much danger to this country from such competition. The Soviets still are not abreast of us industrially and, because they want big armaments, they are still far behind us in producing consumer goods for their own people.

Now add to this the hundreds of thousands needed to cover the rest of the Teamsters high command—the other 14 members of the general executive board. They too will get full salaries on retirement, though most of them are employed by other sections of the Teamsters.

You might be fascinated by the imagination shown by this group. Originally only those who were on salary were eligible for a full pose: to make money and to influence other peoples in their direction.

If relations between this country and the Communist bloc remain peaceful, then the day is also coming when they will probably try to compete with American goods in America.

Some day the United States almost certainly will have to face this kind of competition, particularly since the state-owned means of production under communism can take a loss on one item it wants to sell and make it up elsewhere.

Under the American free-enterprise system, the government as we know it can't do that unless it subsidizes an industry in order to help it sell below cost.

This problem isn't immediate. But it lies ahead. The United States and the rest of the free world will have to find a way to solve it. This is long-range, to be sure. But it seems to be a problem which must be faced inevitably.

Recently the administration nudged its West European allies to do more on their own in lending money to needy peoples overseas. There was a time, during the 1940s, when they were too broke to do that. We did it. Now they can do some of it.

The reason behind the "Buy American" idea—without getting into the complex economics of it—goes like this: This country is still selling more abroad than it is buying abroad. But the gap is getting narrow.

Notes Says 'Mercy Killing'

Man, 60, Kills Grandchild, 4 Others, Takes Own Life

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Idled by a long strike and haunted by fears his grandchildren would be taken away, a 60-year-old man took up an ax Monday and attacked his family.

He killed a granddaughter, 4, and critically injured his wife, a daughter and two grandsons. Then he climbed a wainscoted fire escape and jumped 60 feet to his death.

"Please do not call this murderer," it said in part. "Call it a mercy killing. I know it is wrong but I must and I know God will forgive me. They going to take children away. This way we be together and our suffering be over. I suffered more than Christ 100 times. All my family forgive me. All the neighbors and friends, forgive me."

The note was addressed to Lilian Gabert, 30, his daughter. Montoni lives in Phillipsburg, N.J., across the Delaware River, but had been staying with his daughter since his wife, Anna, 59, entered Betts Hospital two weeks ago with a gall bladder attack.

Monday, when he came to visit Mrs. Montoni at the hospital someone heard him tell her, as he entered her room. "Come into the bathroom. I have something important to tell you."

A nurse heard a scream. She saw Montoni run and found Mrs. Montoni on the floor. A small ax lay beside her.

Ten minutes later Montoni's body was found near the warehouse, two blocks away. Authorities went to Mrs. Gabert's home in suburban Palmer Township. They found the daughter and her children in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor.

The granddaughter, Elaine, died at Easton Hospital. Her mother and brothers, Raymond, 4, and Paul, 21 months, remained unconscious with brain damage. Mrs. Montoni, only slightly better, also was unconscious.

Montoni was a crane operator at the Ingersoll-Rand Co. plant in West Easton. The employees have been on strike 103 days.

Mrs. Gabert, who was divorced in August had made an appointment Monday with a family service agency. That apparently had something to do with Montoni's reference to taking the children away.

White Christmas Is Old Story To Man En Route To Antarctic

A White Christmas is an old story to Seaman William J. McKeever Jr. of East Liverpool—he's had virtually nothing else in the last four years as a member of the crew of an icebreaker that is on its way again—to you guessed it—Antarctica.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McKeever, 238 Ravine St., he is aboard the icebreaker Atka, which is scheduled to arrive in McMurdo Sound in Antarctica Dec. 10 to participate in Operation Deep Freeze 60. The ship returned from the Arctic in September and left again Nov. 1 for the South Pole area. It was the local man's third trip to the Arctic.

Although he is winding up a four-year Navy hitch, the 21-year-old seaman has spent only one Christmas at home. On the others, he was either in the Arctic or the Antarctic. He took part in Operation Deep Freeze III in the winter of 1956-57, but managed to spend last Christmas at home.

Seaman McKeever, a tackle on the 1955 East Liverpool High School team, enlisted with a group of area men in the Pirate Battalion. His enlistment is scheduled to run out in April about the time the Atka returns to the States.

While at McMurdo, the Atka will commence preparation of a channel and off-loading site for shipping and will provide ice escort in and out of the Ross Sea.

A unit of Task Force 43, whose purpose is to furnish support for U.S. activities in the Antarctic, the Atka is scheduled to return to her home port of Boston, Mass., next spring by way of Wellington, New Zealand, and Hobart, Tasmania.

Drive Aims To Improve Moral Tone Of Casinos In Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Nelson Eddy singing "Shortnin' Bread" instead of Candy Barr stripping to the strains of "A Pretty Girl is like a Melody," and a nearly nude chorus line ordered back into costumes.

That's a result of an official campaign to improve the moral tone of gambling casinos in this desert resort.

Both steps were taken Monday at one hotel. Another is fighting the county commissioners' demand that it fire its headliner—female impersonator T. C. Jones.

The commissioners included Jones with Miss Barr and bare bosoms in what they termed unsuitable entertainment. Jones is appearing at the New Frontier.

The Louthan Manufacturing Co. in East End will be closed Thursday, resuming operations Friday.

Some city stores will close at noon Wednesday but others will remain open until 5 p.m.

Liverpool East Firemen Will Meet Wednesday

Official Count Gives Murray Beaver Post

BEAVER — Thomas T. Murray of Ambridge, a Republican, was elected Beaver County recorder of deeds and not Paul Doughty of Hopewell Township, a Democrat, the county Board of Elections said today after completing an official count Monday.

The unofficial count had showed Doughty a 14-vote winner over Murray. Murray picked up 100 votes in an Aliquippa precinct when it was discovered a clerk had failed to carry over a digit in the addition of a column of figures. He also picked up several other votes in Patterson Township, also due to an error in addition.

The official count shows 300 for Murray and 296 for Doughty.

Check Presented By CD

City Given Flood Damage Funds

A check for $8,366 as reimbursement for damage to the Riviera Rd. in an Ohio River flood last January was turned over to municipal officials Monday night in a ceremony at City Hall.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, who received the check on behalf of the city, is shown seated, at left; along with County Commissioner Walter A. Huston. Standing, from left, are James Walker, city Civil Defense director, Commissioner Frank Wilson and James Wark, county CD director.

Civil Defense authorities administered allocation of the funds to Ohio cities which put in claims for aid in repairing flood-damaged facilities. The check presented last night represents 75 per cent of the $11,000 which the city requested. Mayor Lawrence said he understands the remaining 25 per cent will be paid after the city files more forms covering its flood damage repair program, subject to approval by CD officials.

Also attending the ceremony last night were Col. Leo McCarthy of Youngstown, director of Ohio's 3rd CD area, Safety Service Director Joseph F. Rose and James Donahue.

Following the presentation, the mayor and the director discussed with Col. McCarthy and Wark the procedure the city would follow in qualifying to obtain surplus equipment from the armed forces.

The mayor said he understands the city might be able to obtain equipment on a "matching fund" basis or under another arrangement in which it would be required to pay only transportation costs.

To make itself eligible to obtain surplus by paying transportation costs, the city would be required to appropriate a fund equivalent to 3½ cents per capita—based on estimated population of 27,000—which figures out to $3,375, the mayor said. However, the mayor said he understands only sums needed for equipment transportation costs would be paid out of the appropriation.

In the "matching fund" arrangement, under which the city and the CD would match funds for equipment costs, the city would have to enter into an agreement with other political subdivisions in the county—townships and municipalities—with a "general plan of procedure" for exchanging use of the equipment in time of emergency, the mayor said.

Wark told the mayor he hopes to get the co-operation of the cities, townships and the county in working out the required agreement.

Loss Mounts In Theft

NEW CUMBERLAND — Loss of musical instruments stolen over the weekend at New Cumberland High School jumped to 17 following an inventory of equipment Monday. Principal C. P. Smith said today.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported yesterday morning that 14 instruments were stolen but a check yesterday afternoon revealed the loss of 2 more clarinets and a trumpet.

Total value of the stolen instruments is near $3,000, officials said.

Deputies have mailed police "fliers" listing serial numbers and descriptions of the instruments to pawn shops within a 100-mile radius.

Eleven of the various wind instruments were owned by students and not insured, school officials said.

Witness

try McCullough separately on the two counts.

McCullough was cited after his car allegedly struck McKenzie's parked car and a utility pole on Dresden Ave. at the Paramount Service Station, where McKenzie is employed.

Under direct examination today, McKenzie testified he witnessed the crash, but was unable to identify McCullough as the driver. He said the offending car, headed toward the downtown section, swung around in the service station driveway and struck his auto. Then the driver drove out Route 30 again, headed for Lisbon, he testified.

"I can't definitely identify McCullough as the driver," he testified, adding that he "was hot-headed when I signed the charge the next morning" after McCullough's arrest.

Patrolman R. E. Higgins testified he arrived at the scene of the crash about a minute and a half after receiving the report via radio. Based on McKenzie's description, he found McCullough's car parked at Higg's Inn, a California Hollow tavern, he testified.

Higgins said he checked the license number and learned it was issued to McCullough. When he went into the tavern in search of McCullough, no one could point him out, he said. The officer said he asked all the patrons to show their identification. When McCullough would not show his identification, he was taken into custody, the officer continued.

Auto parts found at the crash scene — a headlight rim and a fender strip — matched McCullough's car, he continued.

Officer Higgins said he took McCullough back to the service station and McKenzie "identified him positively as the driver."

McCullough pleaded not guilty to both charges at arraignment Nov. 12. The case is being prosecuted by Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark and Atty. William S. Foulks is defending.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Unwelcome Squatter

Dear Ann Landers: I've been dating a very nice fellow for almost six months but something about him disturbs me.

My boy friend and his two buddies are furnishing their apartment. They think it's perfectly okay to swipe dishes, silverware, sugar bowls, ashtrays, napkins, anything they can get out of a restaurant without being seen.

I've told him I won't go with him again if he lifts anything else. I'd die of shame if we ever got stopped on the way out.

Everyone in the crowd says I'm a humorless drip and a wet blanket. They claim the prices in restaurants are pegged to take care of this sort of "shrinkage." Are they right?—NANETTE.

Dear Nanette: This sort of "shrinkage" is called stealing. The price of a meal in a restaurant does not include the silverware, napkins and sugar bowl.

If more people behaved like this sleight-of-hand artist the restaurant owners would be forced to increase prices to absorb the cost of doing business with thieves.

Adopt U. S. Ways

Dear Ann: Recently my husband and I moved into an apartment owned by my mother-in-law. It seemed like a good idea, excellent location, low rent and I've always been fond of my mother-in-law.

The trouble is I can't get my husband's unmarried brother out of our apartment. He has a key and lets himself in when I'm at work and my husband is out of town. It's a terrible feeling to open the door and see him sitting there leering at me.

He has tried to kiss me and I've pushed him away. I think there must be something mentally wrong with him. When I tell him to leave he just sits there and smiles.

I got desperate when my husband returned from his last trip and I told him. He turned the thing around and said "YOU are the one who is sick. My brother is a swell person. You're imagining things."

What can I do? I'm a nervous wreck.—DORA.

Dear Dora: Have the locks changed and insist that your brother-in-law not have a key. This should do it.

Out Of The Air

Gertrude Berg Analyzes TV Fare

Anniversaries being traditional times for sober reflection, Gertrude Berg, a 30-year member of broadcasting this month, was contemplating how television has changed since Molly Goldberg first opened a kitchen window and yow-hoed into the air shaft to Mrs. Bloom.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. will be "The Big Party" host Dec. 3. The Federal Trade Commission, eager to help congressional TV probes, reportedly is monitoring TV commercials on a 24-hour basis. Thus far, about 53 investigations are under way relative to "the public really wants is entertainment and friendly people."

Mrs. Berg articulates a widespread argument.

With some 300 star-ridden specials crowding the home screen, the industry is weighing the effectiveness of one shots in bulk.

Judging by the only scale it has—the ratings—it's not likely that viewers again will see specials in great numbers next season, for, on the whole, they have failed to show noteworthy box office strength opposite familiar purveyors of weekly TV.

Garry Moore provides a good example.

In advance of the season, Moore noted with trepidation that he was to be pitted against the largest user of star talent, "Starline," which employs names of the caliber of Ingrid Bergman, Rosalind Russell, Maurice Chevalier, Dead Martin and Alex Guinness.

"All I can bank on," Moore allowed at the time, "is audience loyalty. In the long run, I think viewers will stay with the weekly performer, if his batting average is high."

Late ratings indicate that Moore was perceptive. Two months have passed since his initial encounter with "Starline" and, according to the last Nielsen report, he is only 2 points behind his opponent.

"And to think," adds Moore, "my show is produced at one-third the cost of 'Starline' . . . I would have been happy just to survive this season. I never dreamed we'd be practically splitting even."

To get back to Mrs. Berg and her quarrel with specials in full dress, she doesn't view the Moore victory with surprise.

"As I've always said," she remarked, "viewers want nice, simple, friendly people in their living rooms."

FIRST of the "Person to Person" shows from abroad on Dec. 11 will focus on actress Leslie Caron and her director-husband, Peter Hall, in their London apartment, also the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough in Blenheim Castle.

Patrice Munsel accepted CBS' invitation to be hostess of "You Can't Raise Children by the Book" in the Dec. 16 "Woman" series. Miss Munsel is well qualified for the role, being the mother of four.

The December issue of the National Parent-Teacher, which now evaluates TV fare, had favorable words for three Westerns, "Gunsmoke," "Riflemen" and "Fury." It did not approve of "Flash Gordon," for young or old, noting that it's a series of blasts, crashes, roars, uproots, buzzes, whizzes, sizzles, grindings, etc. "One is almost grateful," said the droll critique, "for the commercials that every minute or so, descend upon the viewer to assure him that he can after all still hear the dull thud of the message from the sponsor."

Prisoner Kills Work Foreman

Woman Tells Of Unwilling Role In Escape Of Inmates

By CHARLES L. WEST
JEFFERSON, N.C. (AP) — "I didn't know they had already killed a man...that he was in that truck out there."

"Oh, if I had known that..." Her eyes were welling with tears and her voice was trembling as Mrs. Edd Sheets described her brief, unwilling role in the escape of five dangerous felons from an Ashe County prison gang.

She was alone Monday morning with her sick, 6-year-old daughter at their home about 15 road-miles north of Jefferson in the rugged Blue Ridge Mountain country. The daughter was watching a children's television show.

"I had seen the convict truck go down the road. I never do rest until it's gone," said the 32-year-old mother of four daughters.

The truck carried 12 prisoners and three guards to the day's work assignment, a spot in the remote Cranberry Creek section. While en route, some of the prisoners cut a hole through the top of the wire cage.

When the vehicle stopped, five prisoners scrambled through the hole and out onto guard William F. Handy as he dismounted. Handy was knocked down and disarmed. One prisoner shot work foreman Fields Absher, 55, near the heart. Guard Judd Jones exchanged fire with the felons, but one of them held a gun muzzle against Handy's head and ordered Jones to drop his weapons.

The seven prisoners who did not participate in the escape pleaded with the felons not to kill Handy, as Jones had surrendered.

The escapees donned the guards' caps and uniforms and ordered Jones and Handy into the truck cage. The other seven prisoners loaded the mortally wounded Absher, a grandfather, into the cage also.

"I saw the prison truck come back and it stopped out front," said Mrs. Sheets. "One man got out and came to our door. He had on guard clothes and I figured he was all right."

Mrs. Sheets opened the door and the man, with aimed pistol, demanded the keys to her 1958 automobile. The five piled into the red-and-white car and fled.

Jones, Handy and the seven other prisoners rushed Absher to a hospital.

"He died before we got there," Jones said. "I don't believe he ever said a word."

The State Highway Patrol, assisted by city, county and federal officers, set up roadblocks in the northwestern section of North Carolina, trying to keep the heavily armed felons within the mountains where escape routes are few.

Pianist Shows 'Magic Touch' For Opening Concert Series

By CLARA HALL

Robert Schrade, a distinguished young American artist from New York, displayed his magic touch on the keyboard of the concert grand piano for the opening concert of the East Liverpool Civic Music Association Monday night at Westgate Auditorium.

An appreciative audience of some 700 enjoyed his extensive repertoire of well-balanced classical selections.

For his first number, he played "Sonata" (Handel), characterized by alternating slow and quick movements.

"Variations on an Original

Theme In C Minor" (Beethoven) followed.

His rendition of the lengthy "Opus 26 Vienna Carnival" (Schumann), exhibited brilliance and technique of both the performer and the composer.

He displayed a sensitive touch as he played "Scherzo No. 2 In B Flat Minor" (Balakirev) and "Triana" (Albeniz).

His opening number following intermission was written by a personal friend, Samuel Barber, whom he met while serving in the Army Air Corps. Entitled, "Excursions," it consisted of 4 movements, a part of "Opus 20."

Schrade once more displayed his unusual strength and accuracy with his splendid rendition of "Sonata No. 3 In B Minor, Opus 58" (Chopin), showing the dynamic use of the hands.

For his first encore he played "Le Tote En Butte" (buttered toast), which he attributed to Mozart. This humorous interjection showed a one-finger technique.

"Etude Opus 1013 E Major" (Chopin) proved a delightful addition.

For his finale, he gave "Gratis Au Parnasse" (DeBussy), the story of a student bored with practice who scampers violently across the keys. He was taught this number by Dr. Harold Bauer, the noted pianist, from whom he bought a piano with full-length strings and retractable keyboard and pedals.

The next event for the association will be the appearance of the Roger Wagner Chorale on Feb. 5 at the auditorium.

Ernest Lowe, president, announced the schedule for the Canton season. Blanche Theborn, Dec. 15; the Curtis String Quartet, Feb. 23; Ruth Slencznska, March 30, and the Columbus Boy Choir, May 3.

ray department, and Dr. Richard J. Bonistalli, radiologist.

As part of the observance, the county chapter will emphasize that 25 per cent of the funds collected in its annual Cancer Crusade are forwarded to the American Cancer Society to help with a national research program. Over $13 million in research projects now are under way in the nation.

Mrs. Edna Jones, R. N., president of the county chapter, pointed out that dozens of Ohio scientists are working on ACS-financed research. There are 40 projects under way at a total cost of $300,000 to probe the research frontier for an answer to cancer. Facilities at eight Ohio institutions are being used for research in leukemia, neurosurgery, chemical and surgical therapy, and lung cancer.

The county chapter pointed out that cancer can be treated with surgery or radiation or a combination of the two.

Steelworkers To Get Last Of 'Striker' Food

Joe D'Alesio of Midland, president of Local 1212 of the United Steelworkers, announced that the ninth and final distribution of union-purchased food will be held Wednesday at the Midland Steelworkers Hall.

Distribution at Midland have been held on a weekly basis while in other towns, unions held distributions once every three or four weeks.

Distribution will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Those getting food will include members of Local 1212 of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., 5047 of Crucible's Titanium Division, 3177 of Crucible's office workers, 1274 of the Treadwell Construction Co. and 4999 of Guy Gengarella & Sons.

Members will bring containers, company badges and union cards. Commodities will include chickens, pumpkin, green beans, gelatin, noodles and sweet potatoes. Each member must pick up his own food, D'Alesio said.

Beaver Corn Price Rate Remains Unchanged

The price support rate for the 1959 corn crop in Beaver County will remain at $1.24 a bushel, unchanged from the minimum, G. M. Swick of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today at Beaver.

The price reflects 90 per cent of the average price of $1.25 a bushel received by farmers for the corn during the 3-year period between 1956-58.

Swick's announcement followed a determination by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that the national average support rate will be $1.12 per bushel, the same as the minimum announced before planting time last spring.

Contract Ratified

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — A two-year contract was ratified by United Steelworkers Local 381 Monday night, ending a 134-day strike of 1,020 hourly workers at Union Carbide Metals Co. Nine-cent hourly pay raises were provided for this year, with a wage reopen next July 13. A cost-of-living escalator clause was dropped, but 17 cents an hour received under such a clause in the previous contract was added to base pay. Provision was made for four-week vacations after 20 years instead of 25.

Touhy, known as "The Terrible" in the 1920s when he was a gang leader with a working agreement with the old Al Capone gang, told reporters when he was granted a parole: "All I want is to live in peace for the few years left for me. I hold no grudge and I'm not looking for revenge. I'm not bitter. I just want to get out of here."

Making Study In 4 States

DiSalle's In Connecticut For Mental Health Survey.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle came here today on his whirlwind survey of mental health programs in four eastern states.

After a discussion here he will move on to Wilmington, Del., this afternoon.

Monday the Ohio Democrat discussed both mental health programs and politics in stops at Albany, N. Y., and Boston.

After a tape-recorded discussion with Dr. Harry C. Solomon, Massachusetts mental health commissioner, DiSalle switched to politics at a news conference. He told newsmen he is personally friendly with Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) but the Ohio Democratic Party and he himself are not committed to any presidential candidate.

He added that there are several other potential candidates he feels would make good presidents.

DiSalle said the four states on his tour are among the five top-ranking states in mental health programs, as listed by the American Medical Assn. The other is Kansas.

DiSalle said Ohio spends 180 million dollars in a two-year period on mental health care. Massachusetts spends slightly more, he said, although the patient load in Ohio is about twice what it is in Massachusetts.

He told newsmen he was making the tour because:

"I'm a layman. I need all the expert advice I can get. I don't want this (mental health) program under fire any more."

Earlier Monday at Albany, he spoke with Dr. Paul Hoch, New York commissioner of mental health, and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

DiSalle said he found "support and a great deal of encouragement" in New York State for his plan for revamping Ohio's mental health program. He said he feels Ohio should adopt a policy of separating juvenile and adult mental patients.

He also reported support for his plan to treat aged and mentally retarded patients separately from those declared insane.

Another Juvenile Jury Trial Scheduled Dec. 4

LIBSBORO, Ohio (AP) — Three men inspecting a farm field found a half-starved dog tied to a tree Monday and nearby discovered the burned body of the dog's master, James M. White, 34. White had been missing from his home in southern Highland County since Nov. 13. Dr. W. M. Hoyt, deputy county coroner, ruled White died accidentally of burns suffered when his clothes ignited from a fire White had built.

Each high school in the county sends four students as prospective jurors and the trial is conducted in the regular manner with Judge Tobin presiding. Assistant Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis represents the state and an attorney is appointed for the defendant.

The group attending is limited to students enrolled in government classes in the high schools, who get first-hand information on the workings of the court.

Seeks Building Fund

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Institute of Music will seek contributions next January and February for a new $2,165,000 building to be constructed at University Circle.

Motorist Jailed; 4 Others Fined

LISBON — Raymond Edgar Dobie, 47, of Alliance was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 7 days in jail at a hearing Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Four others were fined a total of $85 and costs and another motorist forfeited $20. Fined were:

James Lester Haute, 19, of Navarre R. D. 3, $50 and costs for reckless operation; George A. Clutter, 34, of Hammondsburg R. D. 1, $25 and costs for operating on an expired temporary permit; Arthur R. Price, 31, of Lisbon R. D. 1, $5 and costs for speeding, and Bruce A. Keliy, 65, of Akron, $5 and costs for passing within 100 feet of an intersection.

Bruce Crapuchettes, 21, of Wheaton, Ill., forfeited for driving left of center on a curve.

The State Highway Patrol cited all but Clutter, who was arrested by constable John W. Jackson, and Haute, who was nabbed by Deputy James R. Gause.

Abraham Lincoln delivered his Gettysburg Address on Nov. 19, 1863, more than four months after the battle.

6 Lettermen Are Back At Fairfield-Waterford

NEW WATERFORD — "With a little luck we will have a very good season," was Coach Bing Newton's survey of his 1959-60 Fair-Waterford cage team.

Newton begins his third year as head coach and last season his team came out on top record-wise with a 9-8 mark.

The record should improve this season, since Newton has reason to be somewhat optimistic, with six lettermen returning.

Leading the way is Lee Chamberlain, a 6-foot-1 senior who is expected to be the No. 1 scoring threat for the Rebels.

Other seniors include Jim Olinhausen, a 6-foot-1 performer, and Tom Metz 5-foot-11 guard.

Three juniors are included in the six returning letter winners. Newton will be counting on Larry Peppe, a 6-foot-1 cager who starred for the Rebels as a sophomore.

Clarence Kannal, 5-foot-11, and Ross Dillon, 6-foot-1, round out the veterans.

In his first season at Fairfield-

Waterford in 1957-58, Newton led the Rebels to the County Class "A" title, but last year bowed to United.

Fairfield-Waterford opens its regular 17-game card at home against North Lima on Dec. 4. McDonald is the only new team on the 1959-60 schedule. All eight home games will be played at Fairfield.

The 1959-60 schedule follows:

Hall In Debut Saturday At Service Game

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Saturday is Dale Hall's first Army-Navy game as head coach. Is the Army mentor worried?

"I don't feel much different than before, even though this is my first game," Hall said today. "Under Col. (Earl) Blaik, this was my game. That is, I was the one who scouted the Navy and Col. Blaik always made the Navy scout responsible for the Army-Navy game."

"I'm used to the pressure under that basis," Hall went on. "This year Tom Harp was the Navy scout so this is his game. He scouted them for six games and will be with me on the sidelines on Saturday."

Harp's reports to Hall, plus an exchange of films covering all but the game prior to the huge classic this Saturday in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, have left the Cadets impressed with the Midshipmen, despite their so-so 4-3-1 record.

"When only one soph (guard John Hewitt) can break into the first two units, then the club must have something," Hall said.

"They have two fine quarterbacks in Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield. Actually after last year's game (Army won 22-6), we figured that Tranchini would be one of the best quarterbacks in the country, and then Maxfield goes and beats him out in mid-season. Now we understand that Maxfield's injury (suffered against Maryland Nov. 7) is not as bad as anticipated and he is back working out."

Local Field Champ Takes First Place

Field Champion Bown's Hams, owned by Charles P. White of the East Liverpool Beagle Club, won first place at the field trial held by the Willow Brook Beagle Club at Tappan Lake Sunday.

Saturday the champ won a fourth place at the trial held by the Pleasant Valley Beagle Club at Magnolia.

This marks the 17th first place win for the champ. The trials were sanctioned by the American Kennel Club and were qualifying trials for the Ohio Championship Stake.

CINCINNATI (AP) — The pro basketball Cincinnati Royals have recalled Larry Staverman from the injured list. Staverman, one-time star for Villa Madonna College of Covington, Ky., had played only two games this season due to an ankle injury. Cus D'Amato's License Revoked In New York

By WHITNEY MARTIN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Saturday is Dale Hall's first Army-Navy game as head coach. Is the Army mentor worried?

"I don't feel much different than before, even though this is my first game," Hall said today. "Under Col. (Earl) Blaik, this was my game. That is, I was the one who scouted the Navy and Col. Blaik always made the Navy scout responsible for the Army-Navy game."

"I'm used to the pressure under that basis," Hall went on. "This year Tom Harp was the Navy scout so this is his game. He scouted them for six games and will be with me on the sidelines on Saturday."

Harp's reports to Hall, plus an exchange of films covering all but the game prior to the huge classic this Saturday in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, have left the Cadets impressed with the Midshipmen, despite their so-so 4-3-1 record.

"When only one soph (guard John Hewitt) can break into the first two units, then the club must have something," Hall said.

"They have two fine quarterbacks in Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield. Actually after last year's game (Army won 22-6), we figured that Tranchini would be one of the best quarterbacks in the country, and then Maxfield goes and beats him out in mid-season. Now we understand that Maxfield's injury (suffered against Maryland Nov. 7) is not as bad as anticipated and he is back working out."

Penn State Takes Liberty Bowl Bid

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)

Students and football fans in this university town greeted the news of Penn State's acceptance of the Liberty Bowl bid with subdued enthusiasm.

One observer said many students are waiting to see who would be state's opponent in the first Liberty Bowl to be held Dec. 19 in Philadelphia's 100,000 seat Municipal Stadium. Bowl officials haven't come up with an opponent yet.

In Philadelphia, Bud Dudley, a co-promoter of the bowl, said four teams are now under consideration.

They are Southeastern Conference champion Georgia (8-1), Georgia Tech (6-3), SMU (5-3-1) and Navy (4-4-1). Georgia appears to be the likely opponent if it gets by Tech Saturday.

University officials announced the Nittany Lions' acceptance of the bid Monday. It came as no surprise.

Cleveland Raid Nets 500 Grid Pool Slips

CLEVELAND (AP) — A raid on the La Scala Lounge Bar in Cleveland Heights Monday night netted 500 football pool bet slips. The bartender and three customers were held for questioning.

Police Chief Edward F. Gaffney led a 12-man raiding party. He called the bar "the center of football pool activities on the East Side."

Police Capt. Earl J. Gordon said that Dominic Conte, 32, owns the bar and that charges of recording wagers and keeping rooms for gambling would be prepared against him.

Griddler's Jaw Broken

CINCINNATI (AP) — Max Messner, a senior tackle from Ashland, Ohio, broke his jaw in the Xavier game, but he may play for the University of Cincinnati in Thursday's season-end game against Miami. Coach George Blackburn, who has few tackles left after a season full of injuries, said Monday a special mask was made to fit Messner and the player is getting back his strength after losing weight due to a liquid diet.

Tourney Set At South Side

The Citizens Association of South Side Schools at Hookstown today announced plans for its second annual holiday basketball tournament scheduled for Dec. 29-30 at the South Side High School.

Four high school varsity teams have entered. They are South Side, Monaca, Moniteau and Rochester. Two games will be played nightly.

Committees named by Mrs. Arlene Nelson, president, include Dave Nichols, Norman Brooks and Walter Stryczek, trophies; Mr. Hazel Walker, Mrs. June Chambers and Mrs. Mary Frasier, publicity; Mrs. Virginia McDonald and Mrs. Jack Smith, tickets, and Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Phyllis Swearinger, insurance.

The committees will meet Wednesday, Dec. 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Smith of Georgetown R. D. 1 to further plans.

The commission ruling further clouded the already fogged heavyweight title picture as it pertains to a rematch between Patterson and Johansson.

Anthony Maceroni, NBA president, said in Providence, R.I., Monday night that his organization temporarily would uphold the ban, but that the NBA is leaving the door open for D'Amato to be heard by the association's grievance committee.

Patterson now has no manager anywhere in the country, and to further complicate matters Rosenbaum Enterprises, Inc., which holds the return buyout contract, previously had its New York license revoked.

The statement questioned the legal authority of the commission to revoke a license that had expired last Sept. 30, and asserted that if the commission believed he had done anything wrong it had the facts May 22, 1959, well before the Patterson-Johansson title fight, yet made no move of any kind until Oct. 26.

Youngstown Man Says Reds Urged T-H Compliance

DENVER (AP) — A former Communist Party member testified today a party meeting was held in New York in 1949 to urge labor union compliance with the Taft-Hartley Act.

John J. Lautner, Youngstown, Ohio, was called as a government witness in the trial of 11 past and present officials of the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union (Ind.). They are accused of conspiring to file false non-Communist affidavits with the National Labor Relations Board in order to qualify the union for services of the NLRB.

Lautner said he was a full-time Communist functionary when he attended the party meeting in New York at which the NLRB non-Communist affidavits were discussed.

He said he joined the Communist Party in 1929. He remained as a member, except during Army service from 1942-45, until he was expelled in January 1950, Lautner said.

Boy And Fireman Die In Explosion, Fire; 11 Injured

DETROIT (AP) — A fireman and a 12-year-old boy were killed and 11 firemen were injured today when a two-story frame house burst apart in an explosion.

The blast knocked more than a score of policemen and firemen to the ground.

Killed were firemen Bruno J. Koulouch, 39, and Eugene Pietszak, 40, who lived in a first-floor apartment. Two firemen were reported in serious condition.

He said he joined the Communist Party in 1929. He remained as a member, except during Army service from 1942-45, until he was expelled in January 1950, Lautner said.

Astor Settles Suit, Accepts $240,000

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — John Jacob Astor III has settled his suit for a share of his half-brother's estimated $120 million estate by accepting $240,000 tax free out of court.

Astor had charged that improper influences had been brought against his half-brother, Vincent, who died in New York City last February and left John Jacob out of his will.

Wine Merchant Cited For Watering Product

LIBOURNE, France (AP) — The local criminal court sentenced Pierre Jouhanneau, a wine merchant, to three months in prison Monday and fined him $493,500 for putting sugar and water in his wine.

Investigators testified they found more than 37 million gallons of the 31-year-old dealer's product was adulterated with 12 to 20 per cent sugar and water.

Humphrey To Make Decision In January

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today he'll announce early in January whether he'll be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and "right now it looks very encouraging."

"I'm unofficially campaigning for the nomination and officially taking a look at things, you might say," Humphrey declared in an interview.

Syracuse Retains Top Spot In Grid Standings

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer Syracuse is the only unbeaten, untied major football power, retains the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters for the third straight week.

The powerful Orange polished off Boston University 46-0 Saturday and now have two weeks to get ready for their regular season finale with UCLA, Dec. 5. After that Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's men move on to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

Syracuse's finale with UCLA now looms as an important test that should measure their real ability. UCLA knocked off Southern California, which had been the only other perfect record team, 10-3.

The weekly voting produced a landslide for Syracuse with 121 of 174 first place ballots. The next best was Mississippi, the No. 2 club which drew 32 firsts, although it didn't play. Mississippi still has one to go, a Nov. 28 date with beaten Mississippi State.

Louisiana State held third place by whipping Tulane 14-6, closing out its regular season. LSU will play in the Sugar Bowl, Jan. 1.

Eight of the top 20 have finished their regular seasons—LSU, Wisconsin, Washington, Arkansas, Illinois, Penn State, Pittsburgh and Missouri.
